

Graphic Designer Intern

About Us

We're a team of AI researchers, engineers, and sector experts, bringing the latest deep learning technology to the shipping industry. We harness cutting-edge technology to make the world of shipping leaner, greener, and better connected. Our products help understand the past, improve the present, and predict the future.

About the position

Would you like to become part of a highly innovative and rapidly growing team? At DeepSea Technologies we push the boundaries of Artificial Intelligence, IoT, and Big Data to offer the best product on the market. Most importantly, we offer an environment where brilliant individuals thrive through close collaboration.

At the moment we are looking for a competent Graphic Designer to conduct his/her internship with us.

We need you to have the ability to:

- Collaborate closely with the Commercial team and the Product management in order to create material (brochures, presentations, marketing material, digital & social media campaign visuals etc.) consistent with our brand identity
- Conceptualize original ideas that bring simplicity to the end result
- Effectively communicate design ideas
- Evaluate feedback, iterate and refine designs
- Maintaining and contributing to our design system

The ideal candidate will have:

- Senior student or graduate of a BS/MS program in Graphic Design, Interaction Design, or related field
- Experience with design tools (i.e. Adobe XD, Photoshop, Illustrator, After Effects etc.)
- A keen eye for aesthetics and details
- Ability to solve problems creatively and effectively
- Ability to effectively communicate his/her work to his/her coworkers
- Any experience with video and motion graphics is a plus
- Design portfolio availability
- Good communication skills in English (written and verbal)

What we offer

At DeepSea Technologies we are offering the opportunity to:

- Combine job and learning
- Evolve professionally and personally while working in a thriving environment
- Grow and follow your career path
- Work in a great office space in the heart of Athens with perks!

We are a team of challenge-driven, team-spirited individuals that take great interest in new techniques and technologies. We love shaping the direction of product features and subsequently the direction of the company. If you think like we do, we are looking forward to meeting you!

This is an internship position at our offices in Athens. Please attach your CV in PDF format and your portfolio.
